Accounts for Bedding-In Tests

A number of user accounts exist in the PRODUCTION system to perform bedding-in and end-to-end testing after a new release into production. These accounts are marked with the flag in table `mtchi_inno_login_users.is_usertestcase` so that they are not included in any reports.

Test Use Cases

The following system test accounts exist for bedding-in and end-to-end testing of each of the major use cases in the Matchi Business:

- IdeaOps, email address: `ideaops@matchi.biz`
  - Use case: Matchi Operations
  - User Groups: First Line Reviewers (ID=38)
- IdeaFullTrialBuyer, email address: `ideafulltrialbuyer@matchi.biz`
  - Use case: Full-Trial Innovation Buyer, should be able to see the full selection of innovations, but only for the short duration.
  - User Groups: Trial Buyers (Full) (ID=56)
- IdeaLimitedTrialBuyer, email address: `idealimitedtrialbuyer@matchi.biz`
  - Use case: Limited-Trial innovation buyer, should only be able to see a limited selection of innovations

- InnovationSponsor, email address: `ideasponsor@matchi.biz`
  - Use case: Should be able to see all innovations that are either in SPONSOR_PREVIEW or BUYER-VISIBLE mode, and should be able to add their own innovation.

Emailing from Test Accounts

These are real email addresses on the Matchi Mail Server and Sent and Received items for these accounts can be viewed through the webmail interface on <http://webmail.matchi.biz>. These email addresses are also all forwarded to the email account 'test@matchi.biz'. The email account 'test@matchi.biz' is in turn forwarded to 'real' members of the testing team. If you prefer to not verify testing processes through the webmail interface, then talk to the SysAdmin dude if you wish to receive emails from the test accounts to your own email Inbox.

If the instructions for creating a TEST environment or any other environment are correctly followed, then the emailing capabilities of these system test accounts should function unhindered, whereas all other users' email addresses are set to point into the ether. i.e. you should have run this command:

update mtchi_users set email=concat(substring(md5(id),1,10),'@test.matchi.biz') where id > 900;

Viewing and selecting our Test Accounts

All system test accounts have a primary key between 880 to 889.
